Parent Handbook

ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

Dear Parents:

It is my great pleasure to welcome the families of the Class of 2014 to Allegheny College. I look forward to meeting you in late August at Orientation and Matriculation. And to the families of our current students, I hope you had a good summer and I look forward to seeing you during Family Weekend in September.

Our Parent Handbook is designed to be a resource for families. The handbook explains our educational programs, outlines college policies, and defines functions of various administrative offices. We have developed the handbook to give you a sense of how the College operates. This knowledge will allow you to guide your son or daughter when they ask for your assistance in matters involving their collegiate experience. My hope for our students at Allegheny is that they learn the skills to ask the right questions and to seek the appropriate answers as they develop into the adults they envision for themselves. With this handbook as a road map, you can provide direction to your student when issues arise and allow them to find solutions to every day issues as they plan and develop their long-term educational goals.

I want to draw your attention to an invaluable educational program that is highlighted in this helpful resource. Allegheny offers numerous opportunities to help students identify their educational goals, to be academically engaged, and to participate in programs that encourage emotional growth and global understanding. The Allegheny College Center for Experiential Learning (ACCEL) is an important part of the student experience. The Center houses Career Services, Service-Learning and Community Service, Leadership Programs, International Programs and Services, and Pre-Professional Studies. Through ACCEL, faculty and staff engage students in robust service-learning, teach students to be civically minded, network students with alumni through extensive internship and career opportunities, and promote global learning as students seek dynamic experiences away from Allegheny College. ACCEL exemplifies our commitment to teach students about participatory citizenship and to be globally engaged. The programs and services offered through ACCEL give our students' the capacity to address real-world issues from multiple perspectives for the common good. So whether your son or daughter is new to Allegheny College or returning this fall I do hope that you encourage them to visit ACCEL. A wonderful experience awaits them.

Finally, I want to encourage all families to clarify what you expect of your son or daughter as it relates to alcohol consumption. As I begin my 10th year in this role my observations of students give me a clear sense that those who struggle with the management of alcohol are not as successful academically or socially as their peers who make appropriate decisions. We have provided a "Wellness section" on page 14 of this handbook to help you have this discussion. I urge your family to review this prior to arrival on campus so that you can discuss expectations and chart a course towards success.

I trust that over the years you will witness important developmental changes in your son or daughter. I suspect that you will see a significant enhancement of his or her ability to imagine, to think critically, to be more culturally aware, and to exercise his or her independence. I am proud to be a part of a college where students are seen as individuals and encouraged to develop into successful and active citizens of the world.

Sincerely,

Joseph DiChristina
Dean of Students

Dear Parents:

I am glad for this opportunity to welcome both new and returning families to the 2010–2011 academic year at Allegheny College and to send you this copy of the Parent Handbook. I know that you will find it a helpful reference to the services we offer our students, as well as the expectations we have of them as members of our community. Please be assured that our students have the support of a dedicated, caring faculty and staff who are committed to helping them succeed.

I look forward to learning with and from the students of Allegheny College. It is a special part of Allegheny’s magic that faculty, staff, administration, and students truly know each other and collaborate in teaching and learning.

I hope you will introduce yourself when you see me at matriculation or at our annual Family Weekend and that you will feel free to contact the offices listed in this handbook if you have questions during the school year.

Sincerely,

James H. Mullen, Jr.
President

ALLEGHENY'S LIBERAL ARTS EDUCATION

Allegheny provides students with a liberal arts education of high standards. We expect our graduates to be not only capable and farsighted leaders but also rational and responsible citizens who are equipped to meet the vexing problems confronting society. We expect them to value diversity, individual integrity of thought and action and the importance of personal rights and freedom in the context of society as a whole. We expect them to know that the same complexities that create the problems and challenges of living also give life its richness.

Allegheny believes that among all possible forms of education, a liberal arts education best develops individual potential. It enables participants to experience and enjoy life to the fullest, enabling the mind to encompass all aspects of the world. Among other benefits, a liberal arts education broadens the kinds of careers, interests, and activities that can be, and are likely to be, pursued. It develops and encourages the use of the imagination, not only in the creative sense, but also for solving problems of everyday life. It promotes understanding of others' aspirations and feelings so that constructive relationships are more easily formed.

To provide an education, Allegheny has given virtually all of its courses and programs this overarching goal: to develop students' minds and teach them how to learn on their own. While factual knowledge is important, no one can master in four years all that is needed for a lifetime. Most important is engaging students in an active learning process that entails not only comprehending facts but also taking responsibility for their proper use. Then, whenever particular knowledge is needed, it can be located, understood, and used.

Allegheny provides an environment in which these goals should be attained concurrently. We realize them through the academic program leading to a bachelor's degree and through the co-curricular activities in which students are encouraged to participate.

ACADEMIC OBJECTIVES

ACADEMIC OBJECTIVES

To master the use of language.

Educated persons can read critically, analyze their own and others' thoughts in a logical fashion, organize and synthesize ideas into coherent bodies of thought, and write and speak clearly and effectively.

To know and use available resources.

An educated person is not prevented from taking action for want of information and tools. He or she is comfortable with technology and knows how to use it in conjunction with the resources provided by libraries, archives and similar institutions.

To know, enjoy, and participate in human accomplishment.

Whatever the realm or medium—the social sciences, natural sciences, or humanities; art, music, drama, dance, sport or some form of writing—humans have created elegant ways of expressing and recording their feelings, thoughts and deeds. An educated person has studied these in depth, sees the interrelationships among them, and enjoys and finds expression in them. Educated persons also recognize the importance of spirituality, and their understanding of the past enhances their appreciation and awareness of the present.

To think and act in a morally, ethically, and socially responsible way.

The values of educated persons begin with respect and love for fellow humans, for all other living things and for the environment we all share. The study of a variety of disciplines and the connections among them helps bring these values into focus. By discussing ideas, events, and issues from several perspectives, we support these values and develop confidence to act on their behalf. Educated persons have the courage, as well as an obligation, to argue for what is right and to stand by their convictions.

STATEMENT OF COMMUNITY

STATEMENT OF COMMUNITY

Allegheny students and employees are committed to creating an inclusive, respectful and safe residential learning community that will actively confront and challenge racism, sexism, heterosexism, religious bigotry, and other forms of harassment and discrimination. We encourage individual growth by promoting a free exchange of ideas in a setting that values diversity, trust and equality. So that the right of all to participate in a shared learning experience is upheld, Allegheny affirms its commitment to the principles of freedom of speech and inquiry, while at the same time fostering responsibility and accountability in the exercise of these freedoms. This statement does not replace existing personnel policies and codes of conduct.

Add/Drop cards, major declaration forms, and advisor change forms are available from this office.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Below is a summary of the degree requirements for graduation. Students should refer to the Allegheny College Catalogue for a complete description of academic requirements, standards and scheduling.

1. Credit Requirement

For students matriculating in or after fall 2009, 128 semester credit hours must successfully be completed. Students who matriculated in 2008 must complete 129 semester credit hours. All other current students must complete 131 semester credit hours. These include courses taken to meet the first-year/sophomore requirements, the major requirement, the minor requirement, the distribution requirement and the Senior Project requirement, as well as elective courses.

2. The First-Year/Sophomore Requirements

The three components of the First-Year/Sophomore program are as follows:

FS 101: Academic Discourse I

An introduction to critical thinking through oral and written communication. The topical material covered in the seminar varies from section to section. All first-year students take Academic Discourse I during the fall semester; the seminar instructor serves as the student's first academic advisor. As part of the advising process, students explore both individual interests and possible academic paths. Must be taken on a letter grade basis.

FS 102: Academic Discourse II

Continued study of oral and written communication with an emphasis on argument. Students consider context, audience, style, evidence, and strategies for persuasion. The topical material covered in the seminar varies from section to section. Must be taken on a letter grade basis.

FS 201 Communication in a Discipline

Taken during the sophomore year, this seminar explores speaking and writing skills with attention to expectations for compelling speech and writing within a specific academic field. Students investigate what counts as persuasive evidence in the discipline and why, the conventions of communications in the discipline, and the methods by which practitioners position their work within the larger disciplinary context. In practice, most students elect to take FS 201 in a department in which they expect to major or minor; however it is not required by most departments that the FS 201 be in the student's major.

THE MAJOR REQUIREMENT

THE MINOR REQUIREMENT

THE SENIOR PROJECT REQUIREMENT

DISTRIBUTION REQUIREMENT

3. The Major Requirement

All Allegheny students must complete a major consisting of at least 36 to 48 semester credit hours, including the Junior Seminar and Senior Project. Students must achieve a minimum grade point average of 2.0 in the major. A maximum of 64 semester credit hours may be required by the major, including collateral and prerequisite courses, though students may choose to take more credit hours toward the major.

4. The Minor Requirement

All Allegheny students must complete a minor (or second major) containing at least 12 credits outside the division of the (first) major. Students whose first major requires courses from more than one division should consult the major description to determine the division of the major and options for fulfilling the minor requirement. Minors require at least 20 credits of coursework with a minimum grade point average of 2.0. Courses may not be counted for both the major and the minor. Forms for declaring a minor may be obtained at the Office of the Registrar. When a second major is used to fulfill the College minor requirement, it must contain at least 20 credit hours that do not also count toward the first major. At least 12 of these 20 credit hours must be outside the division of the first major. Interdivisional majors may take any minor or any second major to fulfill the requirement.

5. The Senior Project Requirement

All students must complete a Senior Project in their major. The Senior Project is not a mere report or semester paper, but a significant piece of independent study, research, or creative work. An oral defense, required by most departments as the culminating point of the Senior Project, may involve a comprehensive examination of the student's departmental studies.

In-Depth: The Senior Project

Every major in the College entails the writing and oral defense of a Senior Project, a substantial piece of original research on a topic in the student's field of study. In most cases, a full academic year is committed to the work.

The Senior Project gives students an opportunity to put into practice the skills and knowledge acquired throughout their Allegheny years. Some projects are published, while others are presented at professional meetings.

Students have been meeting the challenge of writing the Senior Project since 1941. It is a large work for an undergraduate, but once done, it makes similar tasks less daunting in the future. Many alumni state that the Senior Project was their most beneficial experience at Allegheny.

Together, the Senior Project and the major are the culmination of an Alleghenian's undergraduate work. Completion requires using learning skills in ways that reveal the similarities, differences, and connections among diverse branches of knowledge. Learning acquires unity and coherence. At this point, students realize the goal of knowing how to learn on their own; they are prepared intellectually for the tasks that lie ahead.

6. Distribution Requirement

All Allegheny students must take at least two courses (eight semester credit hours) in the division least represented in the major and minor. The details vary slightly with the division.

Humanities Division

All students who do not major or minor in the humanities must complete at least eight semester credit hours in that division. Advanced Placement (AP) courses may not be used to satisfy the humanities distribution. We recommend that this requirement be completed by the end of the sophomore year.

Natural Sciences Division

All students who do not major or minor in the natural sciences must complete at least eight semester credit hours in that division, including at least one laboratory course in biology, chemistry, computer science, environmental science, geology or physics. Advanced Placement courses may not be used to satisfy the natural science requirement. We recommend that this requirement be completed by the end of the sophomore year.

Social Sciences Division

All students who do not major or minor in the social sciences must complete at least eight semester credit hours in that division. Advanced Placement courses may not be used to satisfy the social sciences distribution. We recommend that this requirement be completed by the end of the sophomore year.

7. Grade Requirement

Each student is required to maintain a cumulative quality point average of 2.0 or higher. An average of 2.0 is also required for the student's major and minor.

8. Residency Requirement

The residency requirement is satisfied upon completion of 64 semester credit hours "in residence." Of these, a student's final 16 semester credit hours before graduation must be taken in residence. Work in residence is undertaken through registration at Allegheny and supervision of Allegheny faculty, who evaluate the student's performance. Students are not required to live on campus or in Meadville to satisfy the residency requirement. (The residency requirement differs from the On-Campus Living Requirement described on page 16.)

STUDENT PARTICIPATION IN COMMENCEMENT

All students "tentatively approved" for graduation by the faculty will be permitted to participate in Commencement exercises. Tentatively approved students who complete all degree requirements and are approved by the faculty will receive an Allegheny degree at Commencement. Tentatively approved students not completing all degree requirements and not approved by the faculty will be permitted to participate in Commencement exercises but they will receive a blank piece of paper instead of a diploma. Students are permitted only one opportunity to participate in Commencement, that being the year in which their name appears in the Commencement program. The Commencement program will indicate that all degrees are awarded subject to the completion of all requirements. More detailed procedures for this process are outlined in the student handbook.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Academic support services are available across campus and include the Learning Commons, classroom and faculty advisors, student tutors in many departments, Dean of the College, and Counseling Center staff. All are eager to assist students in being as successful as possible. Academic difficulties sometimes stem from lack of direction or clarity about academic or career goals, while some students may need to improve basic study skills and habits.

Faculty Advising

Each first-year student will be enrolled in a First Seminar (FS 101). The seminar professor will serve as the academic advisor for the students in this small class. Faculty advisors assist students in selecting and scheduling courses, understanding academic requirements, and exploring their educational and career interests. Allegheny emphasizes individual attention as part of the student-advisor relationship. Toward the end of the sophomore year, students are expected to declare a major. At that time, each student selects an advisor from the program or department of the major. If a student chooses to change advisors before that time, he or she should consult the Registrar's Office for the Advisor Change Form. See page 27 for more information on advising responsibilities of students and faculty.

COMPUTING SERVICES

Computing Services (814) 332-2755, Murray Hall

Allegheny College Computing Services is responsible for the technology infrastructure, classroom technology, and desktop computers necessary for teaching, learning and the day-to-day business of the College. Computing Services maintains public computer clusters located around the Allegheny campus. The clusters are located in Steffee Hall, Arter Hall, Quigley Hall, Ruter Hall, Carnegie Hall, Pelletier Library, and Murray Hall.

The residence hall network provides students access to the College network and the internet via high-speed Ethernet connections. All academic and administrative buildings are covered by AC Wireless, the campus's secure wireless network. AC Wireless is also available in most public spaces where students congregate to study, socialize or do group work, including residence hall lounges, the library, and the Campus Center. AC Wireless coverage is also being extended to a growing number of residence halls. When students connect to the college network - whether wired or wireless - they have access to the internet, email, online course tools, library resources, and other college resources.

Students are encouraged to bring a personal computer, and we recommend laptops for their size and mobility. Specific information regarding computers systems and software is available on the Computing Services website as is information on acceptable use, the antivirus requirement, and how to contact us. Computing Services works closely with a local technology company, Coppola Enterprises, to provide students a convenient way to purchase name-brand computers such as Dell and HP at a reasonable price. Technicians from Coppola Enterprises provide technical support for a wide range of computers at a special Allegheny rate from their on-campus office should a student encounter problems with their personal computer.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

The staff of the Division of Student Affairs extends a warm welcome to you. We have designed several ways for you to communicate with us and to receive information that will help you support your student's success, including this Parent Handbook and the Parents' Helpline, (814) 332-2955. We hope these resources support the relationship among you, your student, and the College. We realize you have been and remain the most important resource for your children; similarly, College staff are resources during their time at Allegheny. The following is a description of our mission:

The staff in the division of Student Affairs encourages students to learn and develop by offering a full range of programs, support services, and experiential opportunities. We challenge students to be engaged citizens, creating a campus environment respectful of differences by valuing the voices of others. In collaboration with students, faculty and staff, we foster the holistic development of students to prepare them for a lifetime of contribution to society. Adopted December 2004

Allegheny College Center for Experiential Learning (ACCEL)

(814) 332-4700, Reis Hall

The Allegheny College Center for Experiential Learning (ACCEL) offers educational activities and services in career development, community service, off-campus studies (international and domestic), leadership development, pre-professional studies (education, health, and law), and service learning. Learning experiences are developed through collaboration with faculty, administrators, alumni, Crawford County community members, and worldwide partners. ACCEL programs foster intellectual development, cross-cultural and global awareness, civic and social responsibility, ethical development, career exploration, and personal growth.

Offices and programs housed in ACCEL include Career Services, Community Service and Service Learning, International Programs and Services, Pre-Professional Studies (education, health, and law), and Leadership. The programs and activities of each office support the overall mission of ACCEL and, likewise, ACCEL programs enhance the distinct mission of each office.

Experiential Learning is a component of the educational process in which students are active participants in curricular and co-curricular programs and activities that foster intentional reflection and the acquisition of knowledge, skills and values. Through participation in ACCEL activities, students will enhance their marketability and employability, by developing abilities and qualities such as interpersonal and intercultural communication, critical thinking and self-confidence. ACCEL serves as a clearinghouse for experiential learning activities, and its staff members are available to assist students with the creation and selection of these activities. The ACCEL Resource Center offers materials on all of these areas and programs, while the ACCEL website offers a comprehensive experiential learning database, through which students can research various opportunities.

ACCEL programs include an integrated Experiential Learning (EL) Summer program, held following the conclusion of spring semester. EL Term programs include non-credit internships and job shadowing, faculty-led travel seminars to national and international locations, and various service-learning and leadership development opportunities.

Career Services (ACCEL)

(814) 332-2381, Reis Hall

Career Services assists students in exploring career-related issues and educates students about the changing requirements of today's professions. Its mission is to facilitate student success by connecting students and alumni with resources that support career and life planning. A variety of services are available for students throughout their four years at Allegheny, including individual career counseling, assistance in securing internships, graduate school preparation, and preparation for the job search process. Other learning opportunities include programs connecting students with alumni in their fields of interest, job shadowing and career development workshops. Through ACCEL, Career Services facilitates Allegheny-specific internship experiences, nationally and internationally, and sponsors a summer-long housing program for students participating in Washington, D.C. internships.

Community Service and Service-Learning (ACCEL)

(814) 332-5318, Reis Hall

As a part of ACCEL, Community Service and Service-Learning helps provide structure and support to the student service movement that matches the real needs of the community to the resources of the student body. Allegheny students serve at over 30 local agencies on a consistent basis, completing over 25,000 hours each year. Through service, students demonstrate their civic commitment to issues such as poverty, homelessness, literacy, environmental protection, and domestic violence. They spend time with the elderly, low-income children and families, at-risk youth, injured/abandoned animals, people with mental retardation, and survivors of sexual assault.

Through the Bonner Program, the Allegheny Volunteer Service Leader Program, and the Service-Learning Challenge, student service leaders are trained to be liaisons to community agencies in order to address needs and to recruit, train, and orient groups of Allegheny volunteers for their service sites. Some service programs, such as the Bonner Program, the America Reads Program, and the Computer Literacy Tutoring Program, offer financial compensation for service. The office is involved in organizing special service events such as Make A Difference Day, Alternative Spring Break, and Experiential Learning Summer service experiences. Staff collaborate with faculty and service leaders to incorporate service-learning into Allegheny courses through the Service-Learning Challenge and through independent work with faculty.

Counseling Center

(814) 332-4368, 304 Reis Hall

The Counseling Center is a place where students can come to discuss concerns, sort out feelings, and get help making choices. The staff is dedicated to helping students succeed academically, work well with others, appreciate Allegheny's diversity, adjust to a residential college experience, develop a healthy lifestyle, and prepare for life after college. Services are confidential and free to Allegheny students. The number of visits is limited. Students with serious concerns may seek occasional or crisis help from the Counseling Center, but those visits must always be followed up with treatment by qualified mental health professionals off campus.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

Religious Life

(814) 332-2800, Reis Hall

Religious involvement at Allegheny is voluntary. College is a time when students must begin to make their own decisions about many things, including their faith journey. Such a philosophy is in keeping with Allegheny's Methodist heritage, which emphasizes the role of the free will of the individual in matters of faith. Allegheny takes seriously the religious traditions of its students, and makes every effort to provide programming to meet the needs of diverse faith communities and help those communities learn from and about each other.

Many students take part in Bible studies and Religious Life groups such as Allegheny Christian Outreach, Allegheny Hillel (Jewish), Allegheny Newman Association (Catholic), Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Islamic Awareness Society, and Sojourners Christian Fellowship. Groups of United Methodist and Unitarian Universalist students also meet regularly. Each Sunday during the school year, the College Chaplain leads an ecumenical chapel service and the Catholic Chaplain celebrates Mass. A Rabbi leads High Holiday services and monthly Shabbats, and the Religious Life Office facilitates the celebration of other major religious holidays and works to connect students with faith communities in the area. The Religious Life staff is available to help students find the resources that can best support their spiritual journey while at Allegheny.

RESIDENCE LIFE

Residence Life

(814) 332-3865, Reis Hall

The Office of Residence Life directly serves students living in College-owned housing and offers support to students in a number of areas. These areas include offering educational and social programming, dealing with roommate and personal concerns, and assisting with maintenance issues in College residences. The Residence Life staff currently includes four Area Coordinators and carefully selected and trained upperclass students who serve as Residence Advisors (RAs), House Coordinators (HCs), and Residence Directors (RDs). All live on campus and are available to address student needs. The office staff includes the director, assistant director, and one office support person.

SAFETY & SECURITY

Safety & Security

(814) 332-3357, Newton Observatory

The Allegheny College Safety & Security Office is a sworn police department with full police powers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Officers patrol the campus and the residence halls regularly and are always available to assist students with Safety & Security needs.

The Safety & Security Department provides a number of services for students, including 24-hour staffing, response to emergency needs and medical escorts for students when coordinated by the Health Center. Safety & Security also provides a 24-hour personal escort service for students who do not feel comfortable walking alone on campus. Additionally, Safety & Security also issues and replaces Allegheny AllCards, as well as assigns all access privileges to community members. All vehicles must be registered with the College to park on campus. Fees and parking regulations are available through the Safety & Security office or, on-campus, at <http://inside.allegheny.edu/administration/Security>. The annual crime report (Cleary) can also be accessed through the Safety & Security website.

Student Involvement (814) 332-2754, Campus Center

The Office of Student Involvement (OSI) serves as a gateway to involvement at Allegheny. The office provides opportunities to enhance the academic experience, foster leadership development, promote social interaction and encourage community building. A few of the OSI services include: student organization advising and services including direct advising of the Allegheny Student Government (ASG), Gator Activities Programming (GAP), Fraternity and Sorority Life and the Kaldron Yearbook; oversight of the Henderson Campus Center; management of the game room; coordination of major campus events; coordination of late night programming; break shuttle transportation; and Campus Center room reservations and scheduling.

The Henderson Campus Center is one of the most active buildings on campus. It houses the Post Office; Campus Bookstore; McKinley's food court; Grounds for Change (GFC) student coffeehouse; the game room; and WARC, the student radio station. The Campus Center also features several meeting facilities, student organization offices and the Student Involvement resource room, which is used daily by the Allegheny community.

Getting Involved

Becoming involved in clubs and organizations at Allegheny is easy and fun. Allegheny offers over 100 diverse groups and the opportunity to participate in a wide range of activities. These student groups include student government, honorary societies, athletic organizations, College committees, community service, fraternity and sorority life, media organizations, performance groups, religious organizations and special-interest groups.

All students receive a publication called The Compass when they arrive on campus. This directory includes the name and post office box of one contact person per organization so that interested students can obtain more information at any time. Other resources include an online student organization database at <http://studentinvolvement.allegheny.edu/studentorganizations.php> and an Activities Fair that provides new students the opportunity to meet organization members and ask questions. The Activities Fair is a fun, easy and low-stress environment for new students to learn what Allegheny's clubs and organizations have to offer.

Fraternity & Sorority Life

Currently there are a total of ten nationally affiliated social Greek-letter organizations active on campus. About 28 percent of Allegheny students are members of a fraternity or sorority. Students are eligible to join one of these organizations after completing one full semester at Allegheny and earning a GPA that meets the requirement of the organization they wish to join (GPA requirements vary for each organization, but no student may join a fraternity or sorority if his/her cumulative GPA is below a 2.25). Fraternities hold recruitment events during the fall semester to meet interested potential new members, and women wishing to join a sorority participate in the formal recruitment process that begins at the beginning of the spring semester. The fraternities recognized on campus are Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Theta Chi. The sororities recognized on campus are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Members of fraternities and sororities are typically active in other organizations on campus. They also complete over 10,000 hours of community service annually, and in the 2009-2010 academic year they raised over $30,000 for various charitable organizations. Academically, most chapters consistently perform at or above the all-College GPA. Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils work together to plan such events as Greek Sing, and SAMS (Students for the Awareness of Multiple Sclerosis) to raise money for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

The sororities do not have houses, but instead have suites on the fourth floor of Brooks residence hall. These suites serve as large meeting spaces, have kitchens and are used for various sorority activities. Most of the fraternities have housing options available, and men may choose to live with their respective fraternity after completing their first year at Allegheny to fulfill the on-campus residency requirement.

For more information on fraternity and sorority life at Allegheny, visit <http://studentinvolvement.allegheny.edu> or contact the Office of Student Involvement at (814) 332-2754.

Student Leadership at Allegheny (ACCEL)

To help fulfill the mission of the College, Allegheny provides a number of opportunities that encourage students to consider and develop a personal philosophy of leadership. The foundation of Allegheny's leadership programs is based upon the following premises: every student is a potential leader; leadership is a form of service; leaders are active members of the community and are sensitive to the issues of justice and social responsibility; and leaders need opportunities to learn and develop skills in order to be empowered and empower others.

The comprehensive leadership program builds upon this foundation and includes the Collegiate Leadership Conference, leadership training series, Emerging Leaders Retreat for first-year students, and other programs for developing leaders. ACCEL serves as a clearinghouse for leadership opportunities and reviews programs regularly to respond to changing needs and interests.

WELLNESS PROGRAM

Wellness Education at Allegheny College seeks to encourage students to live healthy and balanced lives. We work to provide information and options to students about the importance of making positive choices and to understand how those choices affect the college community. Our approach to wellness is holistic. We promote the various dimensions of personal wellness including the importance of caring about others. Put another way, we offer a variety of programs and services that focus on both the personal and social responsibility to be healthy citizens.

Wellness and Alcohol

Alcohol is one of the on-going challenges to health and wellness in the lives of students. Alcohol influences people, regardless of their choice to use or to abstain. At Allegheny, we expect students to be able to manage their use of alcohol and to abide by local and state laws. Our goals are to discourage high risk drinking and to empower students who choose not to drink.

The Century Council* defines high risk drinking as:

- Chugging, drinking games, shots (drinking anything out of a punch bowl, trough, hose, or funnel)
- Drinking to get drunk (intoxicated)
- Driving after drinking or riding with someone under the influence
- Drinking too much too fast
- Going to parties where people drink too much
- Not knowing what is in your glass or leaving it unattended
- Mixing alcohol with medications or illegal drugs

Low risk drinking is defined by the Century Council as:

- Thinking about whether you will drink, what you will drink before the party
- Being 21 or older
- Eating a meal before drinking
- Abstaining is the safest choice
- Drinking no more than one drink per hour; maximum 1 for women, 2 for men
- Always knowing what you are drinking
- Alternating alcohol-free drinks throughout the evening
- Knowing how you will get home safely before you go out.

Talking with Your Student About Alcohol

Parents can help by talking with your college student about alcohol. We encourage you to find time this summer for this important and on-going conversation. Here are some tips for getting started:

Tips for Getting Started

- Let your student know that you care about his/her use of alcohol and want to have a conversation, or perhaps a few conversations, about it. Persist, and make the conversation happen.
- Arrange for some quiet, uninterrupted time together when you can talk alone. Time spent alone together while driving, or on a family picnic or hike could afford a good opportunity.
- Avoid lecturing or coming across as opinionated. Stress that you want to have a conversation and that you are interested in hearing how your student thinks and behaves about alcohol and what thought he/she has given to this already. Try to suspend your judgment in the interest of being able to have an open, honest time to communicate.
- Consider keeping the conversation short initially, unless your student appears willing to engage. Let him or her know that you have been thinking a lot about this, you care about it, want to talk over the next few weeks, and to expect you to bring up the subject again.

Talking Points

The following talking points may be helpful to get the conversation going, and are reprinted for your reference from www.higheredcenter.org/parents/8points.html.

- Set clear and realistic expectations regarding academic performance. Studies conducted nationally have demonstrated that partying may contribute as much to a student's decline in grades as the difficulty of his or her academic work. If students know their parents expect sound academic work, they are likely to be more devoted to their studies and have less time to get in trouble with alcohol.
- Stress to students that alcohol is toxic and excessive consumption can fatally poison. This is not a scare tactic. The fact is students die every year from alcohol poisoning. Discourage dangerous drinking through participation in drinking games, fraternity hazing, or in any other way. Parents should ask their students to also have the courage to intervene when they see someone putting their life at risk through participation in dangerous drinking.

- Tell students to intervene when classmates are in trouble with alcohol. Nothing is more tragic than an unconscious student being left to die while others either fail to recognize that the student is in jeopardy or fail to call for help due to fear of getting the student in trouble.
- Tell students to stand up for their right to a safe academic environment. Students who do not drink can be affected by the behavior of those who do, ranging from interrupted study time to assault or unwanted sexual advances. Students can confront these problems directly by discussing them with the offender. If that fails, they should notify the housing director or other residence hall staff.
- Know the alcohol scene on campus and talk to students about it. Students grossly exaggerate the use of alcohol and other drugs by their peers. A recent survey found that University of Oregon students believed 96 percent of their peers drink alcohol at least once a week, when the actual rate was 52 percent. Students are highly influenced by peers and tend to drink up to what they perceive to be the norm. Confronting misperceptions about alcohol use is vital.
- Avoid tales of drinking exploits from your own college years. Entertaining students with stories of drinking back in “the good old days” normalizes what, even then, was abnormal behavior. It also appears to give parental approval to dangerous alcohol consumption.
- Encourage your student to volunteer in community work. In addition to structuring free time, volunteerism provides students with opportunities to develop job-related skills and to gain valuable experience. Helping others also gives students a broader outlook and a healthier perspective on the opportunities they enjoy. Volunteer work on campus helps students further connect with their school, increasing the likelihood of staying in college.
- Make it clear—underage alcohol consumption and alcohol-impaired driving are against the law. Parents should make it clear that they do not condone breaking the law. Parents of college students should openly and clearly express disapproval of underage drinking and dangerous alcohol consumption. And, if parents themselves drink, they should present a positive role model in the responsible use of alcohol.

Talk with your student about alcohol. While parents may not be able to actively monitor students away from home, they can be available to talk and listen, and that is just as important. It can do more than help shape lives, it can save lives.

Questions & Conversation Starters About Alcohol

Here are some additional questions to consider asking your college student, provided by “Parents, You’re Not Done Yet,” a brochure published by the Century Council.

- How will you decide whether or not to drink at college?
- What will you do if you find yourself at a party with alcohol to drink?
- What will you do if you find someone passed out in the bathroom?
- How will you handle it if you are asked to baby-sit someone who is very drunk?
- What will you do if your roommate only wants to drink and party?

LIVING IN A RESIDENCE HALL

Living Options

Allegheny offers a variety of living options. These include College-owned houses, special-interest houses, apartments, residence halls, and special-interest communities within residence halls. Assignment into each of these options is done through the Room Draw process held each spring for upperclass students and during the summer for new students. Students who would like to request special housing accommodations due to medical or other conditions should contact the Learning Commons. For returning students, special requests must be submitted by January 1 of each year. New students must submit requests by May 31 of each year.

Residence halls offer students many options in living styles. These include all-male, all-female and coed buildings, as well as rooms configured as singles, doubles, triples and quads. Additionally, areas designated as 24-hour quiet are available. Most College-owned houses are also organized around special-interest themes such as language, culture or academic programs.

Housing Contract

Entering residential students are assigned a room in a residence hall and are sent a housing contract prior to enrollment. Returning students can select their rooms and accept the terms of the housing contract online, or they may sign their housing contracts or house leases during the room selection process (Room Draw) held each year. Upon signing or accepting the terms of the contract online, an Allegheny housing contract or house lease, a student will be guaranteed housing in one of Allegheny College's residential facilities. This guarantee is not for a specific room or with a specific roommate, although every effort will be made to accommodate each student's individual preference.

THE HOUSING CONTRACT IS BINDING FOR THE ENTIRE ACADEMIC YEAR. Students who can show cause can obtain permission from the Office of Residence Life PRIOR TO THE END OF ROOM DRAW for a partial-year contract. With the exception of withdrawal from the College, official Leave of Absence, a College-approved off-campus study program, or other action sanctioned by the Office of Residence Life, signed housing contracts will not be canceled without forfeiture of housing charges. Students who withdraw or take a leave of absence during a semester are entitled to a refund of the room charge as stated in the College's General Refund Policy. For further details, please see the section of the College Catalogue entitled Residence Hall Contract and Refund Policy.

On-Campus Living Requirement

Allegheny College has an on-campus living requirement for students during their first three years at college. All students must reside on campus for a total of six semesters. Living in a residence hall, College-owned house, or approved fraternity house meets the requirement for on-campus residency. Students may be exempt from the Allegheny on-campus requirement for the following reasons:

- The student has lived on campus at other colleges or universities (may be exempt from the Allegheny requirement for the number of semesters he or she lived on campus elsewhere).
- The student commutes from the primary residence of a parent or a guardian. The residence must be within 50 miles of the College.
- The student is married, has dependents, or other circumstances that require accommodations not available in College-owned housing.
- The student is 23 years of age or older.
- The student is enrolled as a part-time student (11 credit hours or less).

Students who would like to have an exemption from the on-campus requirements should send a written request to the Office of Residence Life.

Guests and Visitation

Guests are welcome to visit their hosts as long as all roommates agree upon the length of the visit and the guest does not stay for more than three nights in any fourteen-day period. Visitation periods may be held in all College residential facilities during those hours established by each floor or section. During those periods, guests of either sex may visit individual rooms and lounges. All students are expected to observe the hours applicable to each floor or section and to individually support the visitation policy. In addition, all buildings have the option of adopting an escort system whereby a resident must escort visitors who are in the building.

Roommate Conflicts

Sharing a room with another person can sometimes result in situations that are stressful. If a student is having a roommate conflict, he or she can talk with the Resident Advisor, who can make suggestions and help mediate the conflict. Other resources are the Resident Director and the Area Coordinator. If mediation does not help the situation, room switches are allowed, provided that space is available. Room changes should occur after the Office of Residence Life grants permission and will be allowed only during approved room change periods.

Room Decoration

Allegheny students are encouraged to decorate their rooms within the guidelines established by the College's policies. These policies allow students to make changes to their room that will make it a more comfortable and attractive place to live, while maintaining standards necessary for community living.

Students are welcome to hang posters and other items on walls, doors and closets with white hanging putty, but should not use double-sided or duct tape, as these will leave a heavy residue and/or remove the paint. Also, because of the damage caused by self-adhesive decals, nails/bolts, and dartboards with metal-tipped darts, students must refrain from using them. Finally, please note that all furniture provided by the College must remain in the assigned room.

By signing a housing contract, students accept responsibility for room damage beyond normal wear and aging and will be charged accordingly.

Opening and Closing

Students will not be permitted in residence halls prior to the official hall opening and will not be allowed to stay past the official closing. The residence halls are open during Fall, Spring, and Thanksgiving breaks and are closed between semesters. College-owned houses are open during Fall, Winter, Spring, and Thanksgiving breaks. A student must leave the residence hall within 24 hours of the end of his or her last final exam each semester and no later than the published official closing date. Students for whom this presents excessive hardships should contact the Office of Residence Life. Please see the academic calendar or contact the Office of Residence Life for opening and closing dates.

Appliances

Students may have a microwave and a refrigerator as long as each is under 7 amps, UL approved, and in good condition. Toasters, coffee makers and hot pots are also allowed. Only one of each type of appliance is allowed per room. Any appliances with an exposed heating element (hot plates, toaster ovens, "electric grills," George Foreman grills, etc.) are not permitted for safety reasons.

If extension cords are needed, please make sure that heavy-duty cords with a minimum of 14-gauge wire are used. If a power strip is necessary, please make sure that it is heavy duty with a self-tripping breaker. In order to help ensure that there is a clear exit from the room in case of emergency, tapestries cannot be hung from the ceiling or in front of the door. Finally, we do not allow halogen lamps due to fire safety concerns.

Conduct

All members of the Allegheny College community are expected to act in a manner that demonstrates consideration and regard for the rights, privileges, and sensitivities of others. This is especially true for those individuals who contract for and occupy the College's residential facilities.

Upon signing a housing contract or accepting the terms of the contract online, the student agrees to respect other residents' desires for a reasonable degree of privacy and sufficient quiet, as well as to show consideration for the property of fellow residents and the College. Specific regulations and policies related to residence facilities are clearly outlined in the housing contract and in The Compass, Allegheny's student handbook.

Personal Property

All goods and property of a student are the responsibility of the student, and the College is not liable for any loss or damage. Students are strongly encouraged to have insurance (through a homeowner's or renter's policy) to protect their belongings.

Fire Safety

The College takes fire safety very seriously. All of our residence halls are equipped with modern alarm systems that alert residents if the possibility of a fire exists. Students are required to evacuate College-owned buildings in the event that a fire alarm sounds and must refrain from tampering with or disabling fire safety equipment. As an additional safety measure, open flames such as candles and incense burners are prohibited. Violations of fire safety policies are subject to judicial action including a fine up to $500 and/or removal from housing.

Billing for Damage to Public Areas or Fire Code Violations

From time to time, additional charges may appear on your student's Statement of Account from the College. These charges are assessed following an incident where a violation of our College fire policies occurs or when property is damaged. If the responsible person(s) cannot be found, the amount is divided evenly among all the residents of the floor or building (whichever is appropriate). It is our hope that this policy minimizes the number of violations in the halls and encourages all of the residents to be responsible for the place where they live. This policy is further explained in the housing contract that students sign before moving into the residence halls.

Depending on the nature of the charge, the amount is established in different ways. For violations of state or local fire codes, the Office of Security assesses a fine for each violation. These fines are collected in a safety/security account that is used to purchase items to help prevent similar situations from occurring in the future (propped door alarms, fire pull station covers, safety videos, etc.). For damage to property, our Physical Plant establishes the charge based upon replacement cost including materials and labor as well as a deterrent fee. These charges go into an account for the repair or replacement of the damaged items.

It is also important to realize that a number of proactive steps are taken to reduce or eliminate these situations. First, our security officers and Residence Life staff members complete Safety & Security checks of the halls on a regular basis. These staff members are expected to confront all behaviors that violate campus policies. Second, we actively educate our students about the dangers/consequences of tampering with fire equipment and the cost associated with damaging College property. We address these issues at meetings held throughout the year and by posting educational signs, especially in areas where damage/fire violations have been a problem. Third, we are constantly exploring new technology that can help eliminate these issues. To date, we have added security phones at the main doors to all residence halls, installed fire pull station covers in areas where patterns of abuse have occurred, and tested door alarms that sound if the door is propped open. It is our hope that these efforts reduce the disruption caused by fire violations and damage.

ALCOHOL

Alcohol

All students and visitors are expected to observe the regulations set forth in the Alcohol Policy, which can be found in The Compass. Allegheny's policy follows the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which state that no one under the age of 21 is permitted to possess or consume alcoholic beverages.

SMOKING

Smoking

All campus buildings, including all residential facilities, are nonsmoking. Students are welcome to smoke outside of the buildings as long as it does not interfere with others.

PETS

Pets

Only fish are permitted as pets in our residential facilities. Any fish kept in a student room must be removed from the residential facility at the conclusion of each semester and at the start of all vacation periods lasting more than 24 hours.

SAFETY & SECURITY

Safety & Security

During posted hours, a Residence Life staff person is on duty to assist residents with concerns. The on-duty staff persons make regular rounds through the buildings to help ensure that the needs of residents are being met.

Phones outside each residence hall enable visitors to contact residents, or in an emergency, to contact the Safety & Security Office. In an effort to protect the security of residents and their belongings, students who prop open residence hall doors will be fined $25. The Safety & Security Office offers "Operation Identification," a program designed to guard against theft. Serial numbers are recorded and engraved on personal property such as stereos, cameras, etc. In the event that your student is the victim of a theft, please notify the Residence Life staff and the Safety & Security Office immediately.

KEYS

Keys

Each resident will be issued the appropriate keys to gain entry to his/her assigned room. Please report the loss of any College keys to the Office of Residence Life and/or the Security Office as soon as possible. If keys are lost, stolen, or not returned for any other reason, students will be charged $100 per key to cover the cost of lock changes. Failure to return College keys within 24 hours of moving out will also result in an improper checkout charge of $25. Additionally, College keys should not be reproduced; such action is subject to judicial action, including a $500 fine.

Storage

Storage is available on a limited basis. Students placing items in storage do so at their own risk. The College will not assume any liability for belongings left in storage. For complete information please contact the Office of Residence Life.

Meal Plans

The Meal Plan policy requires minimum levels of participation based on a student's class year and College residence. Meal plans can be changed within these levels at the Financial Services Office in Schultz Hall through the first three weeks of classes. A description of all food service options and guidelines can be obtained through the Financial Services Office or by visiting our website at www.allegheny.edu/administration/finserv. Our on-campus dining facilities offer a variety of menu choices and can accommodate most nutritional and medical needs. In those rare cases where we are unable to meet a student's medical need, exceptions may be granted. The process for requesting such an exception is described in the student handbook.

LEAVES FROM CAMPUS

Short-term leaves from campus

Students leaving campus due to medical reasons should contact the Health Center. The Health Center will then notify professors and other need-to-know offices.

Students leaving campus due to the death of a family member or friend or for other reasons should contact the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will then notify professors and other need-to-know offices. Please note that this is a notification only, not an excuse. In accordance with Allegheny College's Class Attendance Policy, "students are permitted to be absent from class only with the approval of the instructor." Therefore, the student should also contact the faculty member directly for a formal excuse and to make up any missed work. Students may be required to show proof of illness, death of a family member or friend, etc.

Several offices may be of assistance if there is a death in the family. The College chaplain is available at (814) 332-2800; students may also want to talk with a counselor from the Counseling Center at (814) 332-4368.

Leaves of absence

Students may apply to the Dean of Students Office for a Leave of Absence when personal circumstances make a temporary absence advisable and a commitment to return to the College is evident. The length of the leave is determined by the student's needs, but normally will not exceed one calendar year. Students may take leaves from the College without grade penalty up until the last day of classes. Depending on the circumstances, a leave may be arranged during or between semesters. However, students on a leave may return only at the beginning of an academic semester. Students taking a Leave of Absence are expected to leave campus within 48 hours. Students considering a Leave of Absence must consult their advisor and others, as appropriate, about the effect it will have on progress toward a degree, financial aid, and billing.

Tuition and board refunds for leave of absence are governed by the provisions set forth by the Financial Services Office and are published in the College Catalogue.

Withdrawal from the College

Students desiring to withdraw from Allegheny must complete the withdrawal form available from the Dean of Students Office. In order to receive a full deposit refund, students must withdraw according to the following deadlines: July 1 for fall semester and by one week prior to the first official day of classes for the spring semester.

Students may withdraw from the College without grade penalty up until the last day of classes. Students who withdraw from the College are expected to leave the campus within 48 hours. They lose all privileges of enrollment until the time they are readmitted. Tuition and board refunds for withdrawal are governed by the provisions set forth by the Financial Services Office and are published in the College Catalogue.

POLICY ON PRIVACY OF STUDENT RECORDS

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, (FERPA) mandates that educational institutions maintain the confidentiality of student educational records as defined by FERPA. Specifically, FERPA states (a) that a written institutional policy must be established, and (b) that a statement of adopted procedures be made available, covering the privacy rights of students. A complete version of the policy can be found in the student handbook, The Compass, which is submitted to each student, each year.

Educational Records

A. "Educational Records" include records directly related to a student, which are maintained by Allegheny College, such as admissions materials, transcripts/grades, student conduct records, financial records/billing statements, emails, and financial aid information. Educational records do not include: records of instructional, administrative, and educational personnel which in the sole possession of the maker and are not accessible or revealed to any individual except a temporary substitute; law enforcement records of the Security Office; health records of the Health Center and Counseling Center; employment records of full-time employees who are also students; alumni records which contain information about a person after she/he is no longer in attendance at the College and which do not relate to the person as a student. These records are not necessarily available to a student, but health records may be reviewed by health care provider(s) of the student's choosing.

B. No one outside the College community shall have access to, nor will the College disclose, any information from a student's educational record without the written consent of the student, except to persons who are permitted access under the Act. These are: authorized representatives of federal or state agencies for audit, evaluation, enforcement or compliance with federal or state requirements; officials of other institutions in which students seek to enroll; persons or organizations providing students financial aid; accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation function; authorized researchers who provide for confidentiality of the records; parent(s) of students who have established that student's status as a dependent according to federal tax laws; persons in compliance with a court order/subpoena; necessary persons, in an emergency, in order to protect the health or safety of students or other persons; and the alleged victims of incidents of violent behavior of the outcomes of student conduct proceedings with respect to those incidents.

FERPA allows the release of any information from a student's educational record without the written consent of the student to the parent(s) of a student who have established the student's status as a dependent according to federal tax laws. Information concerning a student who is a dependent, within the meaning of Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, may be released to that student's parent(s). The Internal Revenue Code defines a dependent student as one who has attended an educational institution full time for any five calendar months of a tax year and who was provided more than one-half of his/her support as claimed by the parent(s) on their income tax statement. A student may change his/her status regarding dependency by submitting the proper form and necessary supporting documents to the Financial Services Office. For purposes of this policy, the assumption will be that a student is not a dependent within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Code, unless individually certified to the contrary under the criteria above. Regardless of dependency, a student may submit a release form authorizing the College to share information with his/her parent(s). The submission of such a release is encouraged and can be done by contacting the Dean of Students Office.

C. Within the Allegheny College community, only College officials, individually or collectively, acting in the student's legitimate educational interest are allowed access to student educational records. College officials are persons: employed by the College in academic, administrative, or support staff positions; serving on institutional governing bodies; or contracted by the College to perform certain tasks. A College official has a legitimate educational interest if the information requested is necessary for that official in performing a task that is specified in his/her position description or contract agreement or is performing a task related to the student's education.

Directory Information

A. At its discretion, the College may provide directory information to the public, without prior approval, to include: student name, local and permanent address, photographs, telephone number, email address, date and place of birth, enrollment status, major field of study, date of attendance (including graduation date), degrees and awards received, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and weight and height of members of athletic teams. Directory information includes a student ID number, user ID, or other unique personal identifier used by the student, but only if that information cannot be used directly to gain access to educational records. (ID numbers are NOT included in any documents such as The Compass Allegheny Student Handbook or the Student Directory.)

B. A student may withhold directory information from public disclosure by notifying the Dean of Student's Office in writing. Directory information can be withheld at any time of year and once a student requests non-disclosure this will be in effect until the student gives written notice to change their non-disclosure status. Directory information will be withheld even after graduation until Allegheny College is notified otherwise. At the beginning of each academic year, students who have not already requested a hold on directory information and who want to withhold directory information from the Allegheny student government telephone directory must do so by the end of the add period for Fall classes.

For further information or to obtain a copy of FERPA, students may consult the Dean of Students Office.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Allegheny College is committed to providing qualified students with disabilities with the opportunity to take full advantage of the College's programs, activities, services and facilities. The Student Disability Services Coordinator (in consultation with other members of the College community as necessary) and the student will work together to identify appropriate academic adjustments, auxiliary aids and services, and/or other reasonable accommodation that may be warranted under the circumstances.

Special Housing Request Based on a Disability

For returning students, special housing requests must be submitted by January 1 of each year. New students must submit special housing requests by May 31.

Procedures for Requesting Accommodations

Students are expected to follow guidelines and assume certain responsibilities, including the following:

1. Students should provide documentation regarding the nature and extent of the disability, the functional limitations resulting from the disability, and the accommodation requested in writing to the Student Disability Services Coordinator, Pelletier Library (Box 6 on campus). Students are responsible for cooperating in an interactive process to identify appropriate accommodation.
2. Students should provide current documentation describing how the disability affects or impacts the individual's ability to partake of the College's programs and activities. In some cases, it may be necessary for the College, with student permission, to contact the medical or health professional providing the report to obtain further information or clarification. While documentation from professionals may include specific recommendations for accommodation, the College reserves the right to determine what accommodations are reasonable and appropriate within the College setting and within technical and academic requirements of the program.
3. The College will carefully review information and documentation provided by a student, analyze each student's individual needs, and engage in an interactive process with the student to determine what accommodation may be reasonable and appropriate under the circumstances. In evaluating and coordinating requests for accommodation, the associate director of the Learning Commons may consult with other members of the College community if and as necessary.
4. The College need not provide accommodation that would fundamentally alter the essential characteristics or nature of a program. Likewise, the College need not provide the exact accommodation requested by the student. The College may provide alternate accommodation as long as they are reasonable and appropriate to make the College's programs, activities, services and facilities accessible to that individual.
5. The College has the right to establish qualifications and other essential standards and requirements for its courses, programs, activities, and services. All students are expected to meet these essential qualifications, standards and requirements, with or without reasonable accommodation.

Implementation of an Approved Accommodation

Once the College has approved the accommodation, the student is responsible for sharing an accommodation letter, if needed, with his/her instructors and meeting with them to discuss the implementation of the accommodation. The student is not obligated to identify or discuss the specifics of the disability. The student should inform the Student Disability Services Coordinator when the accommodation is not being implemented, when they are not effective or necessary, when they might need to be adjusted, or when they are no longer being utilized.

Accommodations are not retroactive; that is, they do not impact tests or work completed prior to the student's submission of medical documentation and the College's determination of any necessary accommodation.

Students with disabilities have the same responsibility as other students to meet the College's academic and behavioral standards and to follow the College's general policies and guidelines regarding standards of conduct.

Appeals

Allegheny College has an internal grievance procedure providing for prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging violations of Section 504, the ADA, or other aspects of its non-discrimination policy. Students may use this grievance procedure to appeal the College's decisions regarding requests for accommodation. To file a grievance or to otherwise lodge an internal complaint regarding an alleged violation of the College's non-discrimination policy, students should contact the Dean of Students. Contact information for the Dean of Students is as follows: Joseph DiChristina, Allegheny College, 520 N. Main Street, Meadville, PA 16335; (814) 332-4356. For more information contact the Learning Commons at (814) 332-2898.

STUDENT CONDUCT SYSTEM

Philosophy of Allegheny College's Residential Learning Community

As members of Allegheny College's residential learning community we strive to develop lives rich in meaning and purpose. Students, faculty, staff, and administrators are all valued as responsible citizens of both the campus and the surrounding community. By forming connections with our diverse backgrounds we have the opportunity to expand our understanding of the world we live in, which is shaped through active citizenship, respect for diversity, and a commitment to environmental responsibility.

As a community we hold each other accountable for our actions, and value dialogue and reflection as necessary agents of conflict resolution and personal transformation. Trust and mutual respect are critical to the vitality and health of our community, to which we all contribute. As members of this community we understand that a commitment to excellence, integrity, and ethical judgment must inform the choices we make for they are always reflected in our actions.

To that end, these values are promoted and upheld by the College policies, which are designed to encourage personal responsibility for one's actions and knowledge of the greater impact those actions have upon others. As community members, we agree to abide by the Honor Code and the College policies. Allegheny College values each student as an adult and expects students to be authentic and honest while they participate in informal or formal aspects of the Student Conduct System. The conduct system reflects the College's mission, the Statement of Community, and the Philosophy of Allegheny College's Residential Learning Community.

General Process of the Student Conduct System

The student conduct system is educational in nature and is designed to provide a process to determine a student's responsibility and, when appropriate, assign sanctions for violations of College policy. The system is not comparable to criminal proceedings found in a court of law. A student's specific rights and responsibilities are outlined in each Article of this code.

There are two parts to our Student Conduct System, one for matters related to academic integrity (Article III) and one for non-academic matters (Article IV). All disciplinary decisions related to the Student Conduct System are based on a review of relevant information and facts. Decisions made by the Student Conduct Officer or designee, the Honor Committee, the Academic Integrity Board, and the Community Standards Board will use the standard of proof that it is more likely than not a violation of Allegheny College policy occurred. This means there is substantial information indicating it is more probable than not that a student violated College policies and therefore sanctions are assigned.

The entire student conduct process can be found in the student handbook, The Compass.

Academic Conduct

The Academic Honor Program is designed to promote individual responsibility and integrity in academic affairs and to develop an atmosphere conducive to serious independent scholarship. Allegheny's Honor Code is different than those of many other colleges because it is a student code, developed and upheld by the students themselves rather than imposed by the College administration.

A voluntary honor system was established in 1960, and by 1962 over two-thirds of the student body participated in the program. The following year, the student body voted to make the honor program mandatory. This decision, also approved by the faculty and administration, first applied to the class that entered the College in 1964. Every three years since 1990, the Honor Committee conducts a student referendum to determine if the student body wishes to continue the honor system. The Honor Code has consistently been supported by an overwhelming majority of students. A complete description of the Honor Code can be found in the student handbook, The Compass.

Any member of the College community may report an alleged violation of the Honor Code. Such reports shall be prepared in writing and directed to the Honor Committee. Reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the alleged violation occurs.

The Honor Committee

The Honor Committee is the first level of inquiry in all cases of alleged violations of the Allegheny College Honor Code. The Honor Committee is composed of twelve students: four seniors, four juniors, four sophomores. Selection of new members and a chairperson will be conducted in accordance with the Honor Committee Constitution. The Honor Committee will appoint three of its members to serve as a Review Panel for each alleged violation in accordance with the Honor Committee Constitution.

The Honor Committee Review Panel will conduct an inquiry of the alleged violation(s), including meetings with the accused student. This inquiry will be conducted in accordance with the Honor Committee Constitution. The panel will report the results of its inquiry to the full Honor Committee. If the Honor Committee determines that there is a reasonable likelihood that a violation of the Honor Code occurred, it will refer the alleged violation to the Academic Integrity Board.

The Academic Integrity Board (AIB)

The Academic Integrity Board is the hearing board for all cases of alleged violations of the Honor Code. The Academic Integrity Board consists of five full-time faculty members selected according to procedures governing appointment of faculty to standing committees of the College, and eight full-time students appointed by Allegheny Student Government and approved by a two-thirds vote of the ASG Senate. At least six members of the board must be present to conduct a hearing. An equal number of student and faculty members must be present. If the accused student voluntarily acknowledges that he or she violated the Honor Code prior to the full Honor Committee vote, the case may proceed as outlined in The Compass (Student Handbook).

The board will conduct a hearing to consider relevant facts about the alleged violation, to discuss the alleged violation, to determine whether the Honor Code has been violated, and to determine sanctions, if appropriate. The Assistant Dean of Students coordinates the administrative functions of the Academic Integrity Board. Questions regarding this process should be directed to the Dean of Students Office.

Non-Academic Conduct

As an educational institution, Allegheny College has the authority to establish and enforce reasonable policies regarding the conduct of its students toward the end of protecting the integrity of its educational program, its facilities, and the rights and safety of its constituents.

Upon acceptance for admission to Allegheny College, students acknowledge both this right on the part of the College and their awareness that they will be held accountable through the Allegheny College Student Conduct System if they are found to have committed one or more violations of College Policy.

Any member of the College community may report an alleged violation of College policies. Such reports shall be prepared in writing and directed to the Student Conduct Officer. Reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the alleged violation occurs.

The Student Conduct Officer, or other person designated by the Student Conduct Officer or the Dean of Students, will conduct preliminary inquiries and determine sanctions for non-academic matters.

Disciplinary Conferences

Students accused of non-academic offenses are subject to a disciplinary conference with the Student Conduct Officer, or designee who is an employee of the College. This conference is to be used as a dialogue to find resolution to the incident. Resolutions for students found to be responsible for violating College policy can include a variety of sanctions. Sanctions will be assigned by the Student Conduct officer or designee. For incidents where the behavior would not result in suspension or expulsion, a decision may be rendered without a disciplinary conference. In these cases, the student, upon reviewing the preliminary decision may request a conference to discuss the incident or decision. If the student chooses not to request a conference after reviewing the decision, the student will not be able to appeal the decision.

For behavior that may result in suspension or expulsion, the student will be notified in writing about the date and time of the disciplinary conference. The notice will also include the nature of the specific alleged violations of College policy. Any student wishing to appeal the outcome of a disciplinary conference may do so by notifying the Student Conduct Officer, in writing, within five calendar days of the date of written notification of the decision. An appeal of the findings established during a disciplinary conference will be referred to the Community Standards Board.

The Community Standards Board

The board shall consist of at least eight members (four students and a total of four faculty, staff or administrators) recommended by the Faculty Council, the Dean of Students, and the Allegheny Student Government Executive Board. Quorum shall consist of four members (an equal number of students and faculty or staff). The board will conduct a hearing to consider relevant information about the alleged violation, to discuss the alleged violation, to determine whether the College Policy has been violated, and to determine sanctions, if appropriate. The Assistant Dean of Students will provide administrative support to the Community Standards Board. Questions regarding this process should be directed to the Dean of Students Office.

Sanctions

For academic and non-academic conduct matters, the following sanctions may be assigned:

WARNING: Warning is notice that the student's behavior is unacceptable to the College community and that further misconduct may result in more severe penalties. Warning is for a specified period of time not to extend beyond one year and may be accompanied by conditions and/or other educational sanctions. Records are maintained in the student's file in the Dean of Students Office and are taken into account in the event of future violations. After the Warning period, the Warning will not be externally reported outside the College community as part of the student's disciplinary record.

PROBATION: Probation is notice that the student is no longer in good standing with the College community. Probation may accompany conditions including but not limited to restrictions on activities or the requirement that specific activities be performed. Probation is for a specified period of time and may be accompanied by conditions and/or other educational sanctions. Violation of Probation is considered grounds for further action, including Suspension. At the conclusion of the Probation period, the student is returned to good standing. Records are maintained in the student's file in the Dean of Students Office and are taken into account in the event of future violations. In general, and in accordance with our policy regarding Parental Notification in Student Conduct Situations, parents are notified when a student is placed on probation. The student's academic advisor is also notified in the case of disciplinary probation.

SUSPENSION: Suspension encompasses exclusion from the campus and from all activities related to the College, whether on or off campus, for a specified period of time including the activities of College-recognized or sponsored organizations. The time specification may be a calendar date or the time at which certain accompanying conditions and/or other educational sanctions have been satisfied. Violation of Suspension is considered grounds for further action, including Expulsion. Records are maintained in the student's file in the Dean of Students Office and are taken into account in the event of future violations. In accordance with our policy regarding Parental Notification in Student Conduct Situations, parents are notified when a student is suspended. The student's academic advisor is also notified in the case of suspension.

EXPULSION: Expulsion encompasses permanent separation from the College. Expulsion means that a student may not enroll at the College nor participate in College activities whether on or off campus. If the expelled student fails to honor the Expulsion, legal action may be instituted to enforce it. Records are maintained in the student's file in the Dean of Students Office and are taken into account in the event of future incidents. In accordance with our policy regarding Parental Notification in Student Conduct Situations, parents are notified when a student is expelled. The student's academic advisor is also notified in the case of expulsion.

NOTATIONS ON TRANSCRIPTS: Sanctions are not typically placed on a student's transcript. Due to certain circumstances, if a conduct officer or board determines that a sanction should be placed on a student's transcript, then notation of the sanction will appear on the transcript and in the Dean of Students Office file.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL SANCTIONS: Any sanction may be accompanied by, or substituted with, appropriate activities the student is directed to undertake, including: financial restitution, community restitution (programming requirements or community service hours), being barred from residence halls and/or other campus buildings, being restricted from participation in College-sponsored or College-recognized activities or organizations, or being prohibited from or limited in College employment. The student will be given specific deadlines for the completion of these activities, and failure to meet the deadlines may be grounds for further disciplinary action. Records are maintained in the student's file in the Dean of Students Office and are taken into account in the event of future incidents.

ACADEMIC COURSEWORK: The following sanctions are recommendations to an instructor who may assign them only after the decision of the Academic Integrity Board:

1. Redo the work in question with or without credit;
2. Fail assignment in question;
3. Fail the course.

How Can Parents Help With Student Conduct Issues?

We hope that our partnership begins long before the campus disciplinary process comes into play. In this handbook, you will find some information to help guide conversations between you and your student about issues such as alcohol use and balancing responsibility with freedom when living away from home (please see conversation starters and tips on pages 14 and 15). We encourage you to discuss topics such as these before your student heads to Allegheny and to ask questions relating to these issues during breaks and other opportune times.

We hope our communication with you regarding campus disciplinary matters enables us to work cooperatively to assist your student. It is our intention to create a web of support and to address issues before they become problems. By working together, we have a chance to guide your student through the sometimes difficult adjustment to the newfound freedom that accompanies the start of college. Should your student become involved in an incident that violates our policies, we hope our partnership will focus on helping your student learn from the campus disciplinary process.

We encourage you to contact us if you have questions or need additional resources to assist you.

Parental Notification in Student Conduct Situations

It is our intention to work in close partnership with families (in most cases parents) regarding student conduct situations in a way that is consistent with our philosophy of working directly with students as adults. Should a student become involved in an incident that violates our policies, we hope our communication with families regarding these matters will enable us to work cooperatively to address the current situation and change behavior to avoid future issues.

Federal law allows us to share the results of student conduct proceedings if they involve alcohol or drugs, regardless of financial dependency or the College's receipt of a signed release giving the College permission to share protected information. In these cases, the College will notify families based upon the following guidelines: 1) In all student conduct cases, students are encouraged to discuss the situation with their families. 2) If a student is placed on disciplinary probation, we will send a copy of the letter written at the conclusion of the process to the family in care of the home address listed with the College. 3) If a student is placed on disciplinary suspension or expulsion, we will attempt to contact the family by telephone and we will send a copy of the letter written at the conclusion of the process to the family in care of the home address listed with the College.

For cases that do not involve alcohol or drugs, the College can only share information if a student has signed a release giving the College permission to share protected information and/or the family has notified the College of the student's financial dependence. If a student has not signed a release giving the College permission to share protected information and/or the family has not notified the College of the student's financial dependence, the College is not able to notify the family regarding disciplinary situations. However, in all student conduct cases, we encourage students to discuss the situation with their families.

Please contact the Office of Residence Life if you have questions or concerns regarding the above information.

Do parents routinely receive copies of student grades?

No. Grades are available to students on-line through Web Advisor. Contact the Registrar's office with questions.

Is class attendance mandatory?

The College does not have a universal policy regarding class attendance. Each instructor may set his/her own standards for attendance.

Can students change classes?

Yes. Students may add classes during the first two weeks of each semester and may drop classes anytime during the first five weeks.

How does the advising system work at Allegheny?

All first-year students are required to take a First Seminar (FS 101) in which developing their academic skills is the key goal. Although the various sections pursue different thematic interests, each section contains a core curriculum intended to sharpen writing, speaking, and analytical thinking skills. In addition, the professor of your student's section will be his/her academic advisor and mentor for the first semesters of his/her college career. The advisor will acquaint each student with college resources such as the Learning Commons and help him/her formulate an academic and developmental plan that is aligned with his/her individual goals. New students are placed in their First Seminar prior to arriving in August. During Orientation, students and their faculty advisor meet to discuss Allegheny's academic program as well as the individual student's course schedule. Once a student declares a major, he/she chooses a faculty advisor from within the department or program of the selected major. If your student is interested in becoming a teacher or going into a medical career, encourage him/her to visit the Pre-Professional Studies Office (ACCEL) to obtain a list of courses required for his/her future graduate professional studies.

What are the Advising Responsibilities of Students and Faculty?

Students are responsible for designing an Allegheny education that meets their goals and is consistent with Allegheny's liberal arts tradition and curricular requirements. While the student has ultimate responsibility for planning an academic program, the Academic Adviser occupies a position of trust and is expected to assist students in their planning.

First and Second Year Students are expected to:

- recognize that they are responsible for all decisions that they make at Allegheny, that not all things are possible, and that choices carry with them consequences.
- know graduation requirements as they apply to their particular educational plan
- meet with their advisor at least twice each semester
- prepare for their meetings as directed by their advisor
- recognize that their advisor is an important resource, and carefully consider advice received
- monitor their progress in individual courses and towards graduation, and seek help from their advisor when they encounter difficulties
- seek help from the Learning Commons and other student services when it is warranted

Faculty Advisors to first and second year students are expected to:

- encourage students to be responsible for their own education.
- understand Allegheny's graduation requirements and curricular and co-curricular offerings well enough to be able to assist students with academic planning
- actively encourage students to meet with them at least twice each semester
- encourage thoughtful planning, self-assessment, reflection, and connection to the community
- monitor the academic progress of advisees, maintain student folders with current information, contact students who appear to be in academic trouble, and maintain the confidentiality of information about their advisees
- alert personnel in the Learning Commons about students who appear to be in academic or personal difficulty.
- know when and how to refer students for assistance with academic or personal issues, and assist students with seeking and learning how to seek help.

Where do students buy their textbooks and other school supplies?

The College Bookstore is located in the Campus Center and stocks textbooks for all courses, as well as other books, school supplies, and Allegheny sportswear and memorabilia.

My student is receiving financial aid from Allegheny College. Do we need to apply every year?

Need-based financial assistance is determined on an annual basis. A Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) must be completed every year. Tax returns and other requested documentation must be submitted directly to the Office of Financial Aid and Enrollment Support. Merit-based financial aid is renewed annually for up to four years, contingent on full-time enrollment.

Is continuing financial aid contingent on academic performance?

In order to receive federal financial assistance, satisfactory progress is required. Students are expected to successfully complete at least 24 credits during the previous academic year in order to maintain eligibility. A minimum grade point average of 1.0 is required after two semesters and 2.0 is required after four semesters of enrollment. One semester of probationary federal assistance is allowed if these requirements are not satisfied.

Is work-study income taxable?

Yes. It must be added to other wages earned by the student when filing a tax return. However, if listed on the FAFSA, it is deducted from wages prior to determination of financial aid eligibility for the following academic year.

Should Allegheny students carry health insurance coverage?

Absolutely! All students must have the college insurance coverage or proof of personal insurance coverage. Although many services at our Health Center are free (visits to the College physician or nurse practitioner), students may need throat cultures, X-rays, lab work, etc. It is a good idea to find out the extent of your policy's coverage out of your area. This is particularly important if you have an HMO or PPO (Preferred Provider Organization). Speak with your doctor about his/her willingness to approve out-of-town services.

If your out-of-town coverage is not what you'd like it to be, you may purchase a supplementary policy through Allegheny at a reasonable cost. This helps to cover routine problems like sore throats and sprained ankles.

International students on F-1 and J-1 visas are automatically enrolled in a health insurance plan that meets US federal government regulations. This insurance is also available to non-immigrant aliens with a different visa status (e.g., A-1, H-4). J-1 and F-1 students who do not want coverage through Allegheny must supply evidence that their home-country insurance meets federal regulations. Please see the International Student Advisor for more information.

Can students living on campus have a car?

Yes, students can register vehicles for $150. Vehicles must be parked in the appropriate lot. The Safety & Security Office provides complete information about registering vehicles.

How are students with disabilities accommodated?

Students with documented disabilities may require support services to ensure equal access to Allegheny's educational programs. The Student Disability Services Coordinator serves as a central resource for these students. Current and complete documentation of the special need must be received before consideration of appropriate accommodations for each course can be determined. Depending on the documentation, consultation with the student and the expectations for each course the student is enrolled in, such accommodations might include extended time for tests, use of a note-taker, and others that are appropriate to the individual needs of the student. Regular consultation with the Student Disability Services Coordinator by the student is highly encouraged.

The Student Disability Services Coordinator will correspond during the summer prior to your student's matriculation and ask that the student come see him soon after arriving on campus. They will work together to secure the necessary accommodations. Your student will be notified that his/her advisor will be informed so they can begin to discuss any special arrangements that may be needed. Special housing requests and other needs are addressed before the student arrives on campus. Please see the relevant sections in this handbook for deadlines for requesting special housing arrangements. The Student Disability Services Coordinator is John Mangine, (814) 332-2898.

Whom can I talk to if I have a concern about my child?

The Dean of Students Office, (814) 332-4356, is able to provide general information. They are also able to refer parents to other appropriate offices that can discuss specific concerns. Please refer to page 31 for more information.

In addition, Allegheny has a phone line dedicated to parents' use only. The Parents' Helpline, (814) 332-2955, is answered by the Dean of Students Office. The staff will attempt to answer any questions you may have or to refer you to the office/person who will have an answer.

What happens if there is an emergency and I need to reach my child when campus offices are closed?

The Safety & Security Office operates 24 hours, 7 days a week, and can assist you in an emergency. They can be reached at (814) 332-3357.

What happens if students have problems with their room or roommates?

If students have physical problems with their rooms (e.g. a broken shelf), they can contact their Resident Advisor, who will submit a request to the Physical Plant. If a student is having problems with his/her roommate, the Resident Advisor and/or the community advisor are able to offer mediation and support. The Area Coordinator or a professional staff member can assist the student by providing other room options if a decision is made to change rooms. Room changes should occur after the Office of Residence Life grants permission, and will be allowed only during approved room change periods.

What about laundry?

All residence halls have at least one laundry facility. There is no charge to students for use of the machines.

What is Family Weekend?

This weekend is designated to give parents and other family members an opportunity to experience Allegheny with their student. A broad range of activities and entertainment for families is planned, with plenty of free time for informal enjoyment. There are opportunities to meet Allegheny College President James Mullen and other faculty and staff. Family Weekend 2010 will be held September 24–26. The Dean of Students Office coordinates this weekend. Email Jennifer Foxman at jennifer.foxman@allegheny.edu for more information.

Where can I find information about crime on campus?

The Safety & Security Office publishes an annual report of all crimes reported to their office. Any incident that occurs on campus and violates state or federal law is reported to the Safety & Security Office. For more information, contact (814) 332-3357 or visit www.allegheny.edu/administration/security.

What's the weather like in Meadville?

The weather in Meadville is best described as unpredictable. Because we are close to Lake Erie, we receive a fair share of precipitation, though we are located just south of the "snow belt." Generally, the weather is mild through October, but turns cold in November. The winter months are cold and snowy. April begins spring, and the weather turns warmer and sunnier in May and June.
