The Office of Naval Intelligence is now accepting applications for the 2013 Summer Internship Program

ONI produces meaningful maritime intelligence and moves that intelligence rapidly to key strategic, operational, and tactical decision-makers. Our integrated workforce of civilians, active duty and reserve naval professionals supports combat operations and provide vital information for planning America's defense against maritime threats at home and around the world. We produce maritime intelligence on seaborne terrorism, weapons and technology proliferation, narcotics and smuggling activities that directly supports joint war fighters, the U.S. Navy, civil and national decision makers and agencies. ONI is a core element of Global Maritime Intelligence Integration whose goal is complete Maritime Domain Awareness.

We are looking for interns to work in the following areas:

- Naval Intelligence
- Science and Technology
- Public Administration/Business Operations
- Information Technology
- Law

Join our team, and put your education and skills to work at the country's leading federal agency in maritime intelligence!

All college students interested in applying should visit www.oni.navy.mil for more information on eligibility, requirements, and application procedures.

Once at the website, click the "Join Us" Tab. Select the "Intern Programs" option, and you will be directed to the internship page, which contains program information.
