

Riparian Buffers Workshop:

Teaching Resources
and
Riparian Restoration Projects

CREEK CONNECTIONS
Allegheny College

Thursday, June 10, 2004

Maplewood High School teacher Jason Drake along with presenters from DCNR, Crawford County Conservation District and NRCS spoke about starting Riparian Restoration Projects at local schools. Teachers were also given the opportunity to explore the Riparian Buffers Module.

In the afternoon, the group went on a field trip to the Bradshaw Farm and the Infield Brothers Farm.
