*Our Father, who is in heaven; sanctified be your name.
Let your kingdom come. Your will be done in heaven, and so too on earth.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. Amen.²*

First Witches: What did you do? Tell, come on! Second Witches: I have slit the throat of a boar!
First: And you? Third Witches: *The wife of a helmsman has crossed my mind.
She sent me to the devil, but I will drown her husband with the boat he sailed.*
First: I will give you a north wind. Second: I will raise huge waves. Third: I will drive him to run aground.
All: A drum! What can it be? Here comes Macbeth. Here he is!
The roving sisters fly through the air and float on the waves. They know how to weave a circle that embraces earth and sea.³

Cantique de Jean Racine

Gabriel Fauré (1845-1924)

Word (of God), equal to the Most-High, our only hope, eternal day of the earth and of the heavens,

As we break the silence of the peaceful night, Divine Savior, cast your eyes upon us!

Spread over us the fire of your mighty graces so that hell itself flees at the sound of your voice.

Dissipate the sleep of a languid soul, which leads it to forget your laws!

O Christ, show favor to these faithful people now gathered to praise you.

Receive these songs that they offer to your immortal glory, and (let them) in turn be filled with your gifts.⁴
